

Hospital Hill Health Science Camp is a week long (overnight) academy designed to introduce high school students, primarily from minority and underrepresented populations, to health professional careers. Students attend sessions at UMKC's Hospital Hill college campus during the week and learn about careers in nursing, dentistry, pharmacy, and educational pathways, while participating in hands-on learning activities, and academic enrichment.

Following the summer academy, students have the opportunity to continue exploring health science careers year-round through educational and hands-on activities. The curriculum includes social and cultural support functions designed to build a sense of community and overcome academic and environmental obstacles.
